The Migrant Children's Project advice line provides FREE legal advice to children, young people, parents and carers, as well as second-tier advice to those working with and supporting them. We can advise on all issues related to the rights of children and young people subject to immigration control, including:

- Immigration, asylum and nationality law
- Accommodation and support
- Age assessment
- Trafficking
- Education
- Work and training
- Health care
- Finding a lawyer.

The Migrant Children's Project also offers:

- Free guidance and information available at www.childrenslegalcentre.com.
- Seeking Support, a free, comprehensive, practical guide to securing the rights of separated children in England, available at www.seekingsupport.co.uk or to order by emailing mcp@coramclc.org.uk.
- Training for professionals who work with children and young people. More details available on our website or email mcp@coramclc.org.uk.
